THE BEDEMPTION OF THE "CALLED" BONDS. The Assistant Treasurer cashed checks to-day to the extent of only $280,000 in redemption of the five-twenty bonds, some of which belonged to the first all. The interest on the $20,000,000 designated in the call of December 7, 1871, ceased tc-day. Most se, largely bought in by the Assistant Secretary of e Treasury, Judge Richardson, pending his sourn there. The bonds must be sent to Washingcks will be forwarded to the owners, payable at the nearest Sub-Treasury. The owners of the bonds nging in this country have shipped their bonds ngton only within the past few days, so that the celay in their payment is not surprising. The foreign bonds will be brought by Judge Richdsen, who is expected back from Europe shortly.

The money market was active, and at times r stringent. The government dealers and the nand from the stock houses, which was nerally met at seven, coin, with a few transactions at a commission of 1-32. The closing dealings were at 7, coin, a 1-32.  GOVERNMENTS STRONG.

The press reports of a much calmer feeling in every way on the other side with reference to the Alabama claims, and a further advance of % per cent in United States "stocks" in London to-day, induced a strong market at the government board and a corresponding improvement in actual busi-ness, although so far as quotations are concerned there is outside the currency issue very little change current investment interest, the active condition of the money market still keeping away from this de-partment of business a great deal of capital that will . seek governments later in the season, when, with the advent of easy rates on call, less inducement will be offered. SOUTHERN SECURITIES DULL. The Southern list was unusually dull, but without indication of weakness. The Virginias were, in fact, a tride firmer and the North Carolinas excepcionally strong, the old bonds closing 36 a 36 . The new South Carolinas were also in better request. Advices from Alabama say that the Legislature of that State has passed a bill establishing a sinking fund and setting apart one-twentieth of one per cent upon the taxable property of the State—an amount cient to pay the debt as it matures. This measure is claimed to be the initiative

The stock market was excited and very strong throughout the forenoon, in sympathy with the rampant speculation in Pacific Mail, which carried the price of that stock to 63%, a rise that started a semi-panic among the "bears" over the whole mar-ket, and was followed by a scurry to cover Erie, Wabash, Rock Island, Lake Shore and Northwestern, to which the short interest outside Pacific Mail had been chiefly confined, and which suddenly advanced under this simultaneous demand for them. In the afternoon Pacific Mail betrayed weakness, and gradually declined, under reports circulated by the "bears" that they had compromised with the "buil" clique and closed their contracts, and was still further depressed by the suing out of a new in-junction, said to be granted this time by one of the junction, said to be granted this time by one of the City Hall Judges, forbidding the officers of the company making loans on stocks. The injunction story, while generally discredited, helped the downward movement enough to put the stock to 61%, at which a few hundred shares were disposed of. It is barely possible that the two parties have compromised, but it is most unlikely, for the "buill" clique had gained a control of the stock which would have enabled them to do pretty much what they pleased with its price, especially as the "short" interest was not only extensive enough, but rich enough to have stood a very severe "twisting." However, should the settlement really have been made it will should the settlement really have been made it will not have been the first time the outside public were with each other and then turned around to speculate against the street. Whatever the actual facts about the matter, it is evident that the Pacific Mail has brought the Reathen Chines to perambulate Wall street once more to excite the wrath of innu-merable Bill Nyes—a train of thought which further playing 'possum all the afternoon and submitting to in order to make their eventual victory the greater. Meantime it was noticed that Erie was in active demand. Later in the day the heavy purchases from 33% up to 36% were traced to the Eric Ring, who, short of the stock in anticipation of defeating the repeal of the Classification law, found themselves under the necessity of buying in in order to cover these sales, as well as to provide "long" stock with which to vote should the repeal bill be carried. Their inability to issue new stock is the result of an injunction granted by the United States Court, which they have not dared to set at defiance, and hence the opinion got abroad that the Eric Ring were for once in their life badly scared at the prospect of affairs in the State capital. Thus the market presented in the afternoon the con-trast of a steady decline in Pacific Mail and a steady rise in Erie, all the other speculative fancies following which they listed, revolving about in a sort of grand contra dance, going up and down or waitzing about in pretty near the same spot, until the hour of five brought the day to a close, and left the lookers-on greatly undecided as to whether it was a

Meeting of the Board of Commissioner Renting, Rebuilding and Repairing Plers-The Department Has Only Sixty Thousand Dollars at Its Disposal Instead of the Anticipated Two Hundred and Fifty Thousand

The Commissioners of Docks met yesterday after-noon at two o'clock in the rooms of the Department of Docks, corner of Broadway and Franklin street. Mr. Wilson G. Hunt presided and all of the other the minutes of the last weekly meeting were read and adopted. Mr. John T. Agnew read a report of THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

In reference to the leasing of the south side of pier 22, North River, to Mr. T. H. Starin; also a report in favor of the petition of Mr. William R. Carr, who asks, in behalf of the international Elevating Assoasks, in bensit of the international Rievaning Asso-ciation, for permission to build, at his own ex-pense, at the foot of Suxty-third street, East River, a dock for unloading grain for the Second and Third avenue railroads. The report recommends the Board to enact by a resolution that the desired permission be granted, provided the dock be built in the form of a crib and that the petitioner pay the

the form of a crib and that the petitioner pay the rent of the land under water which it will occupy at the rate of $400 yearly. Another report was read in relation to the petition of Mr. Thomas Kane, who enlarges upon the dangerous condition of FIESS NOS. 50, 51 AND 52 EAST RIVER, and prays that they be repaired so as to render them serviceable for the unloading of large vessels. Other petitions to the same effect had been received, and the Executive Committee recommended that the petitioners be informed that the private owners of the piers had already applied to the Board for their purchase. When the Board acquired sufficient funds to secure the title to the property it would then be placed in a condition of perfect repair. The petition of Mr. A. M. Pentz for the lease of 140 feet of petition of Mr. A. M. Pentz for the lease of 140 feet of BULKHEAD ON THIATERNTH AVENUE, at the foot of West Twelith street, North River, was recommended by the Executive Committee to be denied, as the premises mentioned were required for the usage of the Bureau of Engineers of the Department. The Executive Committee also, in reporting upon the report of Superintendent Ransom, of the Pourtn Water district, recommended that Superintendent Westerveit be directed to repair the platform on piles at the intersection of Rivington and East streets, which had been DANGEROUSLY DAMAGED BY THE ICE AND CURRENTS, the expense k he about three hundred dollars. These reports of the Executive Committee were severally adopted.

In the report of Superintendent Ransom, as above referred to, it was stated that the platform supported on piles at the intersection of Rivington and East streets was in danger of being carried away at any time by the ice and river currents. He thought that this platform should be replaced by a block and a pier extending out to the pier tine.

REPAIRING OF PIERS.

Superintendent Westerveit's report in relation to work done in his department during the pass month was read.

Piers Nos. 5, 6, 7 and 37 had been slightly repaired; the pier at the foot of Twenty-sixth street, North River, had also been repaired, and the triangular buikhead now building between piers Nos. 34 and 35 for Homer Ramsdell and the Erie Kailway Company was nearly completed. These two reports were referred to the Executive Committee.

COOKING FUMES.

A communication from the Commissioners of Pilots, complaining that a most disagreeable enturis prevailed at midday at the foot of Maiden lane from a cooking shanty near the outknead, and asking that it be removed, was referred to the Executive Committee.

LACK OF MONEY.

Commissioner Wood suggested that in order to reduce the expenses of the department the experise who had been for some time employed by the Board be dismissed; for if Comptroller Green would give them no money with which to pay their employes it was most injudicious for the Board to make itself bankrupt. Instead of the $250,000 which they had hoped to have at their disposal, they had only about sixty thousand dollars.

This was merely a suggestion, and was not acted upon.

The Board adjourned at three o'clock.

HIGHWAY ROBBERIES.

A Desperate Gang in the Twenty-first Ward-Officer Dennis Griffin Makes a Target of One and Draws Three "Beads." It is well known that in the Twenty-first ward as desperate a gang of thieves as it is possible to find in the city are sheltered. There are two places in the ward which are specially resorted to places in the ward which are specially resorted to by this gang, and through those districts it is dan-gerous for respectable people to pass late at night. These are from First avenue to the East River along the whole learth of the ward, and the neighborhood of the horse mar-ket, in Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth streets. Captain Gunner, of the Nineteenth precinct, and his detectives, say that two of those now locked up for the assault on Officer Tully are of the same gang.

his detectives, say that two of those now locked up for the assault on Officer Tully are of the same gang.

Yesterday morning, at about two o'clock, as Martin Nolan, a coachman, employed at 715 Fifth avenue, was passing through Twenty-eighth street from the direction of Third avenue, he was set upon by four young ruffians, ranging from sixteen up to twenty years of age, He called for the police, and at the same time defended himself bravely, but was unable to prevent them from taking from him $15 and a silver-plated watch chain. Officer Dennis Griffin heard Notan's cries and ran in pursuit of one of the gang, after whom he fired three shots. The fellow rejused, though, to halt, and would, in all probability, have made his escape had not his unjucky stars placed in his way officer Horseman, who collared him on the corner of Twenty-ninta street and Lexington avenue. He gave his name as John Dunn, sixteen years of age, residing at 395 First avenue. At the police station, on being searched, Nolan's property was found in his possession. Yesterday he was taken before Justice Bixby, at the Yorkville Police Court, who committed him without ball, because he says he is bound to rid that ward at least toeing the one in which he lives) of the presence of such ruffians. The police are in close pursuit of the other three, and it is carnessly hoped that they will arrest them, for full justice awaits them at the above Court.

A TERRIBLE SENSATION. Hydrophobia in Brooklyn-One Child Dying

and Five Others Bitten by a Mad Dog. That most fearful of all known human maladi hydrophobia, has made its appearance in the family circle of a Mr. Connelly—poor but respectable peo-ple, residing at 45 Walworth street, Brooklya. The ple, residing at 45 Walworth street, Brooklyn. The circumstances attending the horror are such as a cause the greatest alarm in the commune of an to excite the utmost commiscration for the afficted child and its parents. Dr. Brady, of Kent avenue was is also an attache of the Health Bureau, was on last monday summoned to attend Julia Connelly, a girt eleven years of age, who was suffering, it was stated by the messager, from convulsions. The physician upon senger, from convulsions. The physician upon repairing to the nouse No. 45 Watworth street He immediately cauterized the wound, which was on the lip, and has since applied the treatment known to the faculty for the disease, which is, however, invariably fatal in result. The story as to the manner in which the disease was contracted is re-counted by the heartbroken mother of the youthful February, four weeks ago to-day. On that day I sent her to the grocery store, on the corner of Park avenue and Spencer street, for some tea, and gave her a $5 bill in a pooketbook. When she came home her face was all bloody, and there was a lot of other children with her, and she told me she had been bitten by a black and tan dog. I commenced to cry as soon as I saw the state she was in, and sent for a doctor, who came and put a plaster on the wound. I did not know the animal was mad at the time, not until after, when I heard that it was mad and had bitten other children, and that it had been killed at the Flushing avenue car stables. When she came into the house after being bitten she said to me, 'Mamma, don't cry; mamma, I'm going to leave you.' The bite was on the lower lip and on the nose. She said she was on the lower lip and on the nose. She said she was on the lower lip and on the no the nose. She has been going to school No. 25. On Monday last she went to school No. 25. On Monday last she went to school No. 26. On Monday last she went to school as usual, and upon her return said she was glad that she had not been put back in her class for hor being absent during the previous three weeks. During that night she had fits and spasma, and appeared irightened and excessively nervous. On Tuesday morning I made her a cup of coffee, and she swallowed a little, but refused to eat anything whatever. She has not slept since Sunday night, but complained of something in her throat, and said she could not swallow anything, and that we would choke her if we gave her anything."

This is the sad narraive of the poor mother, whose cup of sorrow is overflowing, when she turns from the leastful spectacle of her daughter Julia, as the latter sus in a rocking chair, foaming from the leastful spectacle of her daughter Julia, as the latter sus in a rocking chair, foaming from the mouth and exclaiming "Go away, you will smother me," to her youngest child, who ites dying in the cradle from congestion of the lungs. Numbers of symp Pebruary, four weeks ago to-day. On that day I sent her to the grocery store, on the corner of Park pear to be continuous. A consultation of medical men has been held, and no nopes are entertained of her recovery.

On the same day that the fearful visitation befell Julia conneily, a daughter of Patrick McGheegan (a child five years old) was bitten by the same "dog nend." A son of John Johnson, of Spencer street, corner of Willoughby avenue; a son of John Dohan, residing in Spencer street, and two other children whose names have not been ascertained, were also bitten by this rabid animal. Inasmuch as so long a period has elapsed between the bing of these children and the present time, and they are in the enjoyment of excellent health, strong hopes are entertained that they may escape the horrors of hydrophobia. The dog was unquestionably killed as above stated.

DEATH OF A HORSE FROM HYDROPHOBIA.
A valuable horse, belonging to Mr. Cody, the city undertaker, was bitten by a rabid dog about three weeks ago, and yesterday began to tremble violently and foam from the mouth. The services of a veterinary surgeon were secured, and that dignitary declared that the animal was suffering from hydrophobia. The horse died during the day, leaving his owner $500 out of pocket.

DEATH RELIEVES THE SUPPERER.
Although it was well known the uniortunate littue girl could not survive long, yet it was not expected that death would relieve her of her sufferings in a day or two. Her paroxysms, however, grew more frequent and violent, and it became necessary to hold her constantly until last evening, when death ended her terrible agonies.

MEETING OF THE AMERICAN INSTITUTE.

at a Cost of $25,000-A Minority Protest Against the Bargain.

tute was held last evening at the rooms of the ociety in the Cooper Union. There was a large attendance of members present and the proceedings were of more than ordinary interest. As usual, the doors were strictly barred against members of the press, the Institute, with ror of its proceedings as a deliberative body being fairly and impartially reported. Great dissatisfaction is felt by a large number of members at the persistence of the inquisitorial manner in which the business is conducted, but without effect, as the "Ring" which controls the Institute is sufficiently strong to have things its own way.

A brief inaugural address was delivered by Professor Barnard, the newly elected President of the Institute, in which he touched upon the various topics of interest which had transpired. Since the last meeting he was gratified to testify to the great prosperfy of the Institute, both financially and otherwise, it never having been in so flourishing a condition in any previous period of its history.

The Board of Trustees, who have also been recently elected, presented a report, stating that the Rink at Sixty-third street had been purchased for the linstitute at a cost of $25,000, on a lease of six years, at a rent of $13,000 a year, the Institute binding itself to pay to the Third Avenue Railrond Company $1,500 every year in waich a fair was not held. The report was accepted, and a motion made to adopt. A point was raised by some of the members that the new Board of Trustees were not entitled to make the report. The old Board having made the purchase should have reported at the last annual meeting, out failed to do so. The objection was overruled by the Chairman. A member stated that under the new lease the Rink would cost the Institute would lose the $25,000, without any equivalent, the only parties who would be benefited being the shareholders of the Third Avenue Railroad. After considerable discussion the report was finally adopted, and the meeting adjourned.

THE SHOOTING OF PAT. REAGAN.

THE SHOOTING OF PAT. REAGAN.

Jim McCluskey Again Remanded-Another Alleged to Have Fired the Shot. James McCluskey, charged with shooting Patrick Reagan, in a liquor store, corner of Broadway and Seventh avenue, was arraigned at the Yorkville Police Court yesterday, for the second time, and was again remanded. It is now thought that it was not again remanded. It is now thought that it was not McCluskey who fired the shot, but a person named Masterson, for whom the police of the Twenty-second precinct are hunting. Reagan was very drunk when shot, and he may, it is said, nave been mistaken as to the identity of the real person. Officer O'Brien, in whose custody McCluskey is, yesterday produced in court a certificate from Dr. William L. Schuyler, of the Roosevelt Street Hospital, in whose care Reagan is. According to this the injured man is in a very precarious condition, the chances being unfavorable to his recovery. The ball entered his cheek, the doctor says; but, aithough a thorough search has been made, its location cannot be found. There is a probability that it passed out through the mouth, and if that is the case the man may recover; otherwise the chances are against him.
